IIMSAM OFFICIAL PRESS RELEASE

Olympic Gold Medalist/All-American Soccer Superstar Staci Wilson Joins IIMSAM`s CAMPMARADONA®

Staci Wilson being congratulated by President Clinton at the White House Circa 1996

(IIMSAM 28 February 2010, New York Headquarters.) The Inter-Governmental Institution for the use of Micro-algae Spirulina Against Malnutrition (IIMSAM¹) an Observer at the United Nations Economic and Social Council has appointed former Olympic Gold Medalist/All-American Soccer Superstar Staci Wilson as a Goodwill Ambassador with a focus supporting the United Nations Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), IIMSAM`s Mandate and CAMPMARADONA® (For more details on these programmes see www.iimsam.org). In the world of sports, an athlete secures a place in history when her team retires the number she wore. Few were surprised when University of North Carolina decided to honor All-America defender Staci Wilson by retiring her #27 jersey in 2001. In fact, it was as sure as a free kick on goal without the goalie present. Wilson is a certified superstar. And her resume is beyond impressive.

Wilson was a two-time Parade magazine All-American in high school. In 1995, Soccer Digest named her co-National College Player of the Year. She is widely considered the toughest IIMSAM was granted an Observer Status with the United Nations Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC), in keeping with the Resolution Number E/2003/212, dated 5th of March, 2003. IIMSAM is registered under the United Nations Treaty Series Number 37542-37543 dated 7th of June 2001, in accordance with the Article 102 of the Charter of the United Nations. defensive player in the history of the college game. At North Carolina, she was a member of three NCAA national championship soccer teams in 1994, '96 and '97. As a senior, in 1997, Soccer America magazine named her "first-team All-America." In 1995 and '96, Wilson played for the U.S. National team and was a member of the gold-medal-winning women's soccer team at the 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta. Drafted in 2000 by the Carolina Courage of the WUSA (Women's United Soccer Association), Wilson played the 2001 season before nagging injuries slowed her professional career.

Born in Livingston, New Jersey, and currently living in Virginia. Staci is committed to devote all her efforts to the work of IIMSAM throughout the world with the help of her wide network of contacts and soccer affiliations to enhance the mandate of IIMSAM in support of the United Nations Millennium Development Goals as well as CAMPMARADONA®.

IIMSAM Director General Stated: “We have realized the power of celebrities or prominent Sports figures in privileged positions in winning the hearts and minds of people and we are confident that Staci will bring the advocacy and attention to how much suffering there is in the world.”
