(IIMSAM Headquarters, New York, November 4TH, 2010) The Intergovernmental Institution for the use of micro algae Spirulina against malnutrition (IIMSAM) would appoint the legendary Mexican singer Emmanuel as a Goodwill Ambassador to help the organisation realise a world free of malnutrition and secure the UN MDGs through Spirulina on the 16th of November 2010.

The official ceremonies to mark the occasion will be held at the Estonia House in New York, United States. The Secretary General of IIMSAM, H.E. Ambassador Remigio Maradona and H.E. Claude Heller, Ambassador and Permanent Representative of Mexico to the United Nations would grace the occasion.

The microalga Spirulina was used by the Aztecs as a dietary supplement along with other ancient civilizations across the world. Spirulina was declared as the best food for the future by the United Nations World Food Conference of 1974. It holds significant potential to counter malnutrition which is not only the biggest challenge to secure the United Nations Millennium Development Goals but also the leading cause of illness and death worldwide especially in the developing and the least developed countries.

Emmanuel is a legendary singer from Mexico with a special appeal in the Spanish speaking world. He has a career spanning over thirty years and has sold over 17 million albums that have earned him many gold and platinum records. Emmanuel is also one of the main contributors to an environmental movement in Mexico, "Human-Nature Movement" which calls for balanced development with the environment.

The Secretary General of IIMSAM, Ambassador Remigio Maradona while congratulating Emmanuel on his appointment said- "It gives me a great pleasure to apprise you all that the endeavours of IIMSAM have now a voice- The voice of legendary singer Emmanuel- that shall help the organisation realise its ambition of a world free of malnutrition through Spirulina. A singer not only provides words a form but also harnesses their potential to connect emotionally with the fellow human being. I am confident that Emmannuel shall help ingrain the cause of IIMSAM and generate support for the initiatives of the organisation not only in Mexico but across the Spanish Speaking world. I welcome him to the IIMSAM family."
